

CAROL ST PIERRE

COL (RET) Carol St Pierre has served this great country for over 30 years in numerous positions of increasing leadership and nursing-related management in both Army Reserve and civilian careers. She exemplifies the Army values of loyalty, duty, respect, honor, integrity, and courage.

Among COL (RET) St Pierre's wide-ranging successes are: Head Nurse/Officer in Charge; Intermediate Care Ward; DEPMEDS instructor; Assistant Chief Nurse; Family Readiness Liaison; and Detachment Commander, Fort Totten in Queens, NY. She was assigned to the 8th Medical Brigade at Ft Wadsworth, NY as the Chief Nurse. She accredits Family Readiness Liaison Coordinator as the most rewarding of her many assignments. In this capacity, she assisted deployed soldiers and their family members in attending the Yellow Ribbon and Welcome Home Ceremony.

Her untiring commitment to serving the whole community is exhibited through her active membership in the National Association of Black Military Women, where she is a founding member and current President of the New York City Chapter. As President, she is committed to keeping alive the history and heritage of Black women who serve our nation with courage and valor. Her primary goal is to foster a spirit of camaraderie and goodwill among all individuals interested in Black history through community involvement programs. Secondly, she strives to motivate and support black youth in their attainment of academic excellence by utilizing Military "role models" as a source of inspiration.

Colonel (RET) St Pierre is the recipient of numerous military and civilian awards, decorations, and honors; including the: Army Reserve Component Achievement Medal, Army Achievement Medal, Women History Month Award from the 369th Historical Society, Eagle Award from the Black Veterans for Social Justice, Caribbean American Healthcare Award from Caribbean Times, Marjorie Matthews Award from Bellevue hospital, Placement in the New York Senate Veteran's Hall Of Fame by Senator Leroy Comrie, American Nurse Award, and National Council of Negro Women leadership award. She was selected to march as the Grand Marshall 3rd Annual Veterans Appreciation Day Parade.

Colonel (RET) St Pierre stays active here and across the world. She participated in humanitarian missions in Nigeria and Haiti. She is a member of the National Association of Health Services Executives/NY Region and Iota Chi Chapter. She volunteers in various military associations such as the USO. She adopted deployed soldiers through the Adopt-a Platoon Program. She sends care packages to deployed soldiers/warriors. Col St Pierre is currently the lead for the Military-Veterans Employment Resource Group for Diversity and Inclusion at Mount Sinai Health System. -

Currently, Colonel (RET) St Pierre is the Nurse Navigator Clinical Coordinator in the Oncology Unit at Mount Sinai Hospital. She is an energetic and thoughtful leader who inspires others while promoting teamwork. She is a highly motivated and driven nursing leader who thrives on challenges. she believes that a good leader should always have a heart, especially when dealing with people.